

How do you expect your students will respect your rules if you are not the first to do so